

Newport, Sydney

NSW Australia

0425 226 959

nathan@judges.com.au

Nathan Judges

Design Student at Sydney University

Experience

Syndeticom Electrical

2017 - Present

Technician

- Communications technician specialising in commercial TelComs installations and maintenance.
- Providing technical support for major banks and data centres in Sydney.
- I have received commendations from staff members throughout the hierarchy of the company during my employment.
- Actively seek to improve my skills and all facets of the business.

Rusti Fig Cafe

2015 - 2017

Barrista

- While this job title may not directly relate to a role as a designer, the skills and work ethic I learnt during this employment were key in shaping me as a worker and a person.
- I was quickly promoted to store manager within the first month of my employment, taking over major responsibilities the owner relied on me to complete.
- I was trusted with keeping track of financial facets of the company, including payroll.
- Dealt with customer interactions in a polite and helpful manner, always achieving a positive outcome.

Education

Sydney University

2017 - Present

Bachelor of Design Computing

- Human-centred design degree teaching strategies to empathise with people & define the interactions between user and technologies to address social, commercial, real-world problems
- Key subject areas include Design Process, Web and Product, User Experience, Interaction and Business Innovation Design
- Currently achieving a 78 WAM (Weighted Average Mark; Distinction average)

References

Hamish Henderson

Head Design Lecturer

0421 148 166

hamish.henderson@uni.sydney.edu.au

Skills

Communication

Leadership

Teamwork

Issue Resolution

Research

UI/UX Tools (eg Adobe suite)

THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

AUTHORED BY:

Hamish Henderson

Unit Coordinator: Interaction Design Studio (DECO2200)

6 October 2018

REFERENCE FOR NATHAN JUDGES

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter in response to a request by Mr Judges to provide a letter of reference.

I am the Unit Coordinator for a subject in which Mr Judges is a student.

I can state that Mr Judges is a conscientious, hard-working and capable student.

He has shown talent, and the potential to be a great designer.

He is currently achieving the grade of High Distinction in my subject thus far.

Based on my interactions with Mr Judges, combined with his academic performance, I have no hesitation in recommending him as a strong candidate for employment within the sector.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

Hamish Henderson

Unit Coordinator: Interaction Design Studio (DECO2200)

MATER MARIA CATHOLIC COLLEGE
COMMUNITY • FORMATION • SUCCESS

PERSONAL REFERENCE written by Mr M Rulli

Nathan is a polite and friendly student who attended Mater Maria Catholic College since 2009. He is a diligent student who has strived to complete his studies to the best of his ability. Nathan impressed his teachers with his diligence and his positive outlook as he worked towards achieving an excellent Higher School Certificate result.

Nathan made substantial contributions to the sporting life of the College, in particular sailing. He competed at a national level and was captain of the team in Year 12. Nathan not only demonstrated a strong work ethic, commitment and excellent sportsmanship, but he was also a leader, training the younger members on the team.

Not only is Nathan a conscientious student, he is a fine young man of integrity. His reliability and honesty were respected by both his teachers and peers and this made him a popular member of the year group. Nathan can communicate effectively with those around him and he maintained an excellent attendance and punctuality record. We feel that his personal qualities, stated above, would make him an asset in any place of employment. We wish Nathan the very best in all of his future endeavours.

Marc Reicher
Principal

Printed: 18/11/14